REBEL GENERAL HAS AN-NOUNCED BATTLE AT JUAREZ
IS TO START TODAY UN-LESS DIAZ RESIGNS.

MADERO WAITS THE TIME

Not Expected the Federals Can Hold
the City Against the Stubborn Fighting of the Insurgent Army.

At Nine Today.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
El Paso, Tex., April 21.—At nine this morning all was quiet in the camps of both the federals and insurgents, who were now within two miles of each other.

The attack on Juarez was yesterday postponed twenty-four hours, to give the peace delegates another day in which to make an effort to induce Diaz
to resign from the presidency.

This is said to be the only condition upon which Madero will consent to armistice.

The United States troops from Fort Bliss have moved into the city and are now close to the border.

Washington's Opinion.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, April 21.—That the Mexican situation centered today at Juarez and El Paso was the opinion of Washington officials. It is firmly believed that if Madero makes good his threat to attack unless Diaz resigns,
there will be a repetition of the Douglas incident with more serious results.

RECEIVES ANSWER.

Washington, April 21.—Formal notification that the Mexican government had modified its reply to President Taft and retraced certain charges made in the original draft, was received at the state department from Ambassador Wilson, at Mexico City.

BERGER PRESENTED PETITION TO HAVE MANEUVERS ENDED

Wisconsin Socialist Congressman Introduced Document Signed by Border Citizens Who Sympathize With Mexican Rebels.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, April 21.—Rep. Berger,
the socialist member from Wisconsin,
today presented in the House a petition of ninety thousand citizens of the United States to withdraw the troops from the Mexican border. The petitioners declare the presence of troops is adding to the suppression of what the petitioners believe to be a just struggle for liberty.

AWAIT OUTCOME OF PREMIER'S ACTION

Will Victory Over Russian Council of Empire Be a Victory for Reaction or Reform? Is Vital Question.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
St. Petersburg, Russia, April 21.—
Russia is still trying to make up its mind whether Premier Stolypin's victory over the Council of Empire, or Muscovite senate, was a victory for reaction or reform.

As Russian statesmen go, M. Stolypin is a progressive. Nevertheless, he violated the Russian constitution in suspending the Duma and resorting, during the suspension, to an imperial ukase to put through his plan for the Russification of the Polish provinces.

His plan is also unjust to the czar's Polish subjects—so much so that the few radicals in the Council of Empire, joined the reactionaries in voting

MAP SHOWING PRINCIPAL PLACES MENTIONED IN CURRENT DISPATCHES ON THE MEXICAN CRISIS.

Starts for Juarez.
Douglas, Ariz., April 21.—Colonel Chapman and the federal forces of the harrido out Agua Prieta, left there at eleven this morning to march overland to the relief of Juarez. This was taken to indicate that Diaz has no intention of complying with the rebel demand that he resign the presidency.

Are Busy.
El Paso, April 21.—At noon more than one thousand insurgents were seen slowly advancing toward Juarez.
The total insurgent force under Gen.
Madero is estimated at twenty-six hundred men. The federal force under Gen. Navarro is about one thousand and one hundred men.

Are Released.
Mexico City, April 21.—President
Diaz today ordered the release of Edward T. Blunt and Lawrence P. Con-verso, who are imprisoned in Juarez.
It was asserted they were arrested on American soil.

ANOTHER COMPLAINT BROUGHT BY CHIEF

Line Foreman of Wisconsin Telephone Company Charged With Transferring Fire Alarm Wires Without Authority.

On complaint of Chief of the Fire Department H. C. Klein, a warrant was today issued for the arrest of Charles DeBorcher, foreman of the crew of men who are making the changes of the wiring system of the Wisconsin Telephone company, charging the defendant with cutting, breaking, transferring and interfering with the wires of the fire alarm system of the city of Janesville without proper authority. The case was called in municipal court this afternoon shortly before three o'clock and by agreement of the attorneys, City Attorney Maxfield for the city, and M. A. Mount for the telephone company, was adjourned until Monday, May 1, Mr. Mount announcing a plea of not guilty for the defendant.

Chief Klein alleges that in transferring the wires of the alarm system, which are placed on the poles of the telephone company, some of the wires on East Milwaukee street, between the old office and the new office, were cut and spliced to make the transfer without obtaining his consent to do so.
The officials of the company say that the wires were not cut to make the transfer and that the present positions of the wires on the poles are more advantageous to the system than before.

HEARING OF RUBBER COMPANY PROMOTERS

Men Arrested on Charge of Using Mails to Defraud Brought Before U. S. Court Commissioner in Boston.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Boston, Mass., April 21.—The joint case against Warren H. Wheeler and Stipman Shaw of Wheeler & Shaw,
Inc., who were arrested two weeks ago,
charged with having used the mails in a scheme to defraud, was called for a hearing before United States Commissioner Hayes in this city today.
Wheeler and Stipman were arrested on the request of Post Office Inspector Charles H. Chapman, who had for some time been investigating the connection of the firm with the promotion of the American Rubber Company, a $5,000,000 corporation, organized under the laws of the State of Maine, which is said to control a secret process for producing rubber at a small cost and large profit.

According to the statement of the federal officers who have been engaged in the investigation of the case about $100,000 in stock of the company have been sold at various prices to about 500 or more small investors, most of them in the New England states. It is charged by the federal officers that Wheeler, who was formerly the treasurer of the rubber company, and his associate, in selling the stock of the corporation, used the mails to circulate information concerning the condition and prospects of the rubber company, which they must have known to be misleading and deceiving.

Among other things it is claimed by the government, the promoters of the company in their effort to attract purchasers of the stock, had made the statement that there was a profit of 50 per cent on every pound of rubber turned out by the company's factory in Hyde Park. This statement, the federal officers say, was not supported by the facts in the case, and constituted a fraudulent misrepresentation.
As a matter of fact, the government officials assert, the price which the company received for the products of its factory did not even cover the cost of manufacture.

stocks recovered slightly at the end of the day.

OUTLINES IDEAS OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY ON TARIFF MATTER

Democrats Map Out the Arrangements
For Securing Tariff For Revenue
Only.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, April 21.—The closing debate on Canadian reciprocity in the House today, Rep. Underwood declared the enactment of the reciprocity bill into law would mark the end of the period of "incubation" in economic policy of the country in so far as conditions have affected the industrial conditions of the nation. He reviewed the policy of the protective tariff and insisted that conditions today are such that a high tariff is unnecessary to encourage the building up of great industries in the United States. He said the Democrats do not intend to abandon the customs houses, but favor levying customs duties for revenue purposes only.

The attempt to put fresh meat on the Canadian reciprocity free list was defeated overwhelmingly.

Progressive republicans in the senate received a setback today when by a vote of seven to four, the republican committee on committees declined not to recognize the progressive republicans formally as an organization.

WOULD CHANGE THE HOURS OF MEETING

Movement on Foot in England to Have Parliament Hold Day Sessions
Instead of at Night.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
London, April 21.—In the interest of saner legislation, influential members of the House of Commons are trying to persuade parliament to do its work by daylight in future. Arthur Lynch,
a nationalist, started the movement.
He has several powerful supporters
but they have yet to overcome a vigorous sentiment in favor of everything that is time-honored simply because it is time-honored.

In theory, parliament's sessions end at 11 p. m. In fact they extend, as often as not, to two or three in the morning. It is not even uncommon for adjournment to come after daybreak. Once this spring the Commons stayed to business until 10 a. m. and resumed it at noon.

Lynch's contention is that there is
"a certain aspect of absurdity in legislating in normal times after midnight." He says it makes the Commons look ridiculous. In addition to this, he complains of the "neurasthenia" inseparable from debate in the small hours and would put an end to it "except possibly in time of impending war."

WORK ACCOMPLISHED BY LEGISLATURE AT ITS SESSION TODAY

Senate Passed Husting Measure—
Workman's Compensation Bill—Passed With Amendment—
Woman's Suffrage
Stock Advances.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Madison, April 21.—Following a heated and lengthy discussion of the Husting measure requiring candidates for the legislature at primary and general elections to declare their intent to vote the people's choice of United States senators, the senate today passed the measure by a vote of 17 to 8. It now goes to the assembly. The bill in effect, if passed, will grant to the people a direct election of United States senators.

The assembly today concurred in the Workman's Compensation bill by a vote of sixty-nine to thirteen and an amendment was adopted declaring it the intent of the legislature with respect to certain sections of the measure which will require its being further acted upon the senate before being signed by the governor.

The amendment, in brief, provides that if certain sections of the law are held unconstitutional by the courts
the entire measure must be held likewise.

Woman's suffrage "stick," following a short slump yesterday, is today above par with conditions favorably for a steady rise. With two dissenting votes the assembly committee on elections has reported the James bill for passage. Passed by the senate the measure's success is now assured, it is declared.

Two bills by Senator Gaylord to provide free text books in the schools by means of a special tax levy were killed by the committee and so reported to the senate today. Both measures had met opposition in petitions. Gaylord's plan required city councils to inaugurate a free text book system or submit the question to a vote.

HONOR MEMORY OF GEN. SAM HOUSTON

Statue of Mexican War Hero Unveiled at Huntsville, Texas, Today—Battle of Flowers at San Antonio.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Huntsville, Texas, April 21.—The memory of General Sam Houston, who seventy-five years ago today broke the power of the Mexicans by administering a decisive defeat to the forces of Santa Anna in the battle of San Jacinto, was fittingly honored today by the unveiling of a handsome monument over the grave of the famous soldier and statesman in the Huntsville cemetery. The unveiling was an event of state-wide interest. Visitors from every section of Texas attended, among them being many members of the Society of the Daughters of the Texas Republic, whose annual convention has been in session here this week. Several members of the Houston family were present as guests of honor, together with W. P. Zuber and Alonzo Steele, the only survivors of the battle of San Jacinto. The committee in charge of arrangements was fortunate in securing William J. Bryan to deliver the principal address at the unveiling exercises.

The monument which cost $10,000,
was erected through an appropriation of the Texas legislature. The monumental consists of a low granite shaft bearing a bas-relief figure of General Houston, mounted upon his favorite charger, with his hat in one hand, waving his troops onward in their attack upon the forces of Santa Anna in the battle of San Jacinto. Upon the two sides of the main shaft are allegorical figures representing war and peace. Upon the reverse side of the shaft appears the Minuteman emblem.
The memorial was designed by Pompey Coppland.

San Antonio's Flower Battle.
San Antonio, Tex., April 21.—This year's annual spring carnival, which has attracted many thousands of visitors from all parts of the Southwest to this city, culminated in today's "Battle of the Flowers" in commemoration of the anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto. In which Texas pioneers broke the Mexican power for all time;
Never before did the people of the entire southwest section of the state take so much interest in the celebration as they did this year and the result was the unprecedented success of the carnival and particularly of today's anniversary celebration.

The decoration throughout the city was on a more elaborate scale than ever before in the history of the city and the flower parade was an event of indescribable beauty and magnificence.
Particularly interesting and attractive were the big electrically propelled floats, loaded with flowers and beautiful young women or bearing groups representing many of the most important and stirring scenes and events in the history of the Lone Star State.

HALL & HUEBEL

OPENING SESSION OF NEW COUNCIL

FIRST OFFICIAL GATHERING WAS HELD LAST EVENING AT CITY HALL.

MAYOR'S INAUGURAL SPEECH

His Honor Gave Council Most Excellent Advice As To the Needs of the City.

With "Harmony" as the keynote of the present administration Mayor John C. Nichols called the common council to order at eight o'clock last evening and formally opened the year's work of his new administration.

Benquets of flowers were on every table and the air of the council chamber laden with their fragrance, where the new council met. Two large bouquets of pink roses adorned the mayor's desk, a similar bouquet of red roses was placed on the table used by the city clerk and red, white and pink carnations decorated the desks of each of the aldermen.

The council session was called to order by Mayor Nichols at eight o'clock, but long before that time the chambers were filled with an interested and curious crowd who occupied all the chairs in the room and took standing room privileges at the rear and in the doorways. The crowd voiced its endorsement of the incoming administration by hearty applause as the mayor stepped to the chair.

Following the usual routine of calling the meeting to order and taking the roll, the Mayor arose and in a clear voice read his inaugural speech, calling his policies with regard to the City of Janesville at large and the various departments of the city government. The speaker advanced a number of new ideas, Harmony and Progress, being the keynote of the speech.

The rules of the old council were adopted and the date for the first regular meeting set for Monday, May 1, at eight o'clock on a motion of Alderman Buchholz.

Standing Committees. The members of the various standing committees were announced by Mayor Nichols as follows:

Finance: William Hall, chairman, E. H. Connell, C. B. Evans. Judiciary: C. H. Evans, chairman, J. F. Donahue, H. G. Shurtliff. Fire and Water: George O. Buchholz, J. F. Donahue, Wm. Hall, E. J. Schmidley.

Highways: J. J. Sheridan, Wm. Hall, E. H. Connell, C. B. Evans, J. J. Dulin.

Lighting: J. F. Donahue, James F. Spohn, George O. Buchholz, E. J. Schmidley, and H. G. Shurtliff.

Severance: E. H. Connell, C. B. Evans, J. J. Dulin, H. G. Shurtliff and J. J. Sheridan.

Schools: H. G. Shurtliff, E. J. Schmidley, George Buchholz, James F. Spohn, and J. F. Donahue.

Police: J. F. Spohn, J. J. Dulin, G. O. Buchholz.

Licenses: J. J. Dulin, J. F. Spohn, Wm. Hall.

Parks: J. J. Sheridan, J. F. Donahue, E. H. Connell, E. J. Schmidley, Wm. Hall.

Printing: E. J. Schmidley, G. O. Buchholz, J. J. Sheridan.

Public Buildings: J. J. Dulin, J. J. Sheridan, E. H. Connell, C. B. Evans, H. G. Shurtliff.

Mayor Nichols announced his appointments to the street assessment committee to be Alderman Dulin and Hall. They, with Mayor Nichols, the city engineer, and Alderman Sheridan, chairman of the highways committee, constitute the full committee.

Elections Made. Alderman Donahue and Shurtliff were named tellers by Mayor Nichols and the vote for president of the council taken, to choose the man who should occupy the mayor's seat if the latter should be absent from any meeting.

Alderman Buchholz was chosen to the place on the first ballot with six votes to four for Alderman Dulin. Mr. Buchholz spoke a few words of thanks to the council for the honor conferred on him.

G. V. Korch was re-elected city engineer, receiving nine votes, a stray vote being cast for William Dulin.

As a successor to Dr. J. H. Richards, city health officer, who had announced his willingness to accept another term, Dr. M. A. Cunningham was elected on the fourth ballot. The first three votes taken were a tie between Dr. Cunningham and Dr. S. H. Buckmaster.

The voting for street commissioner went into the sixth ballot before a choice was made and Dan Vitlme was then selected. The results of the various ballots are as follows:

First ballot: William Dulin, 2; James Sennett, 2; Dan Wilkins, 2; H. Proctor, 2; H. Kayler, 1; George Croft, 1.

Second ballot: James Sennett, 2; Dan Wilkins, 4; William Dulin, 3; George Croft, 1. Third ballot: Sennett, 1; Wilkins, 4; Dulin, 2; Croft, 1.

Fourth ballot: Wilkins, 5; Croft, 4; George Palmer, 1. Fifth ballot: Wilkins, 5; Croft, 4; Palmer, 1. Sixth ballot: Sennett, 1; Wilkins, 6; Croft, 3.

James Gillespie, junior at the city hall was elected to succeed himself in the position for the next two years.

Member of Commission. An appointment that was awaited with considerable interest, not only among the members of the council and the city officers, but a number in the crowd as well was the announcement of Mayor Nichols' appointment of the man to succeed the late George D. Simpson as a member of the fire and police commission. W. L. Taylor was the one named.

Assessors for each ward, nominated by one of the aldermen in each ward were as follows: First ward, George Harvey; Second ward, Bert Gager; Third ward, Frank L. Smith; Fourth ward, C. K. Milhorne; Fifth ward, James Clough.

After the election of the various officers the council took its recess.

Salary List. On assembling again, the salary list for the month of April was ordered and the bonds of four plumbers in the city were accepted. Plumbers feeling the right to excavate the streets in the city are required to file a bond and pay a fee of $25 yearly for the privilege. Those granted this right were George C. Clemons, McVicar Bros., P. E. Green and Snyder Bros.

On motion of Alderman Sheridan, chairman of the committee on parks,

William Fathers and James Hearney, who took care of the public parks last year, were re-appointed. Alderman Buchholz suggested that the attention of the street commissioner be called to the order passed by the old council ordering him to flush out all sewers.

Adjournment was taken at half past nine, but the aldermen and mayor remained in their places while flashlight pictures of the council in their regular places and with the aldermen grouped about the mayor's desk, were taken. Following is the address of Mayor Nichols:

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Janesville. Gentlemen:

First of all I desire to express to the citizens of Janesville my sincere thanks and gratitude for the confidence they have placed in me by electing me Mayor. The majority given me was beyond my fondest hopes, and I shall endeavor to show that the confidence thus displayed is not misplaced. I feel that my responsibility has increased, by the strong endorsement of public sentiment. I accept this responsibility and ask you gentlemen of the Common Council to aid me in bringing about a progressive and business-like administration of the city's affairs. I shall look for, and shall expect the hearty cooperation of all the citizens in this work, for I believe that we should all work with one aim in view,—placing Janesville among the list of the most progressive cities of the State.

The Mayor and Common Council should work with the Industrial and Commercial Club. Unity of action on all matters pertaining to the advancement of the city is what is needed. United efforts, harmony in action, no class distinction, with plenty of push, pluck and principle will produce prosperity for the city.

The eyes of the city are directed towards us, and I believe we have their good wishes. I cannot impress too strongly upon you the sacredness of the trust placed upon you. All your efforts must be directed toward the execution of the task before you. No doubt you will find many obstacles placed in your way, disappointments and heartaches will not be spared you, your first attempts may not be successful, but determined perseverance will conquer all difficulties. The great keynote of any successful business or municipal administration is HARMONY.

Concerted action on the part of the Mayor and the Members of the Common Council, harmony of all interests represented in the Council can do

COMMERCIAL CLUB'S SUPPER IS TONIGHT

This evening the Commercial club of which James McNeil was recently elected president, will meet for their monthly supper at the Myers hotel. Among the topics to be discussed are the city streets and what can be done to improve their condition.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. James Murphy. Funeral services for the late Mrs. James Murphy were held this morning at nine o'clock from St. Patrick's church. Solemn high mass was celebrated with Dean Kelly officiating as celebrant, Father Smith of Brookfield, as deacon, and Father James McNeil as sub-deacon. There were many friends present as the last and rites and many beautiful floral offerings were fitting tributes to the life just passed. Interment was made in Mt. Olivet cemetery. The pall bearers were: James Mooney, Peter Mooney, James Crane, Michael Mulcahey, Bert Kellogg and James Reed.

Harry Jones.

Harry Jones passed away yesterday afternoon at half past one at the home of his parents, 603 South High street. He leaves behind him his father and mother, five brothers, Arthur Jones of Footville; Charles R. Fred R. Harvey and Leland of this city; and five sisters: Mrs. J. H. Bort of Wausau; Mrs. J. E. Johnson of Rockford, and Maud, Lucy and Hazel of this city. The funeral will be held from the home, Saturday morning at ten o'clock.

IMPROVISED ICE BOX WAS TAKEN FROM REAR PORCH

Theft of Box From Reeder Home Reported to Police This Morning. But Box Was Later Found Nearby.

Mischellaneous boys, or someone with a crudge, are thought to be responsible for the removal, during the night, of a box which was used for storing food, from the rear porch of the home of Attorney Charles Reeder on Court street. Mr. Reeder reported the theft of the box to the police this morning and Chief of Police Appleby made an investigation. The improvised ice box, made from a cracker box, was found in the "dump" near Court street with only a basin of preserves missing from the supply of edibles left in the box last night.

COUNTY BOARD'S WORK FINISHED

APRIL SESSION OF THE COUNTY SUPERVISORS COMPLETED LATE YESTERDAY.

MUCH BUSINESS WAS DONE

Matters Handled in a Business-like Manner Most Expeditiously by the Members.

One of the most harmonious and business-like sessions of the county board of supervisors in the history of Rock county came to a close yesterday afternoon. Not alone was the work carried out with dispatch, but the importance of the matters handled was inestimable and of lasting good to the county. Upon the election of John A. Paul of Milton as chairman and the perfection of an organization by the appointment of standing committees, the affairs of the county were administered in a way that should prove a source of gratification to all citizens.

In the matter of the controversy between the county and former register of deeds, C. H. Weirick, the board duly considered every phase of the question and decided to lay the matter over until the November session in order to afford ample opportunity for all to become acquainted with the merits of the case. On this day the also voted to give permission to the officers of the county at the court house to close their offices Saturday afternoon during the hot months of July and August.

As is generally known much was done in the way of highway construction in the several towns of the county. Eighteen towns, offering a total of $16,000, asked for a similar sum from the board for the improvement of the roads in every corner of the county. This sum making a total investment for the above purpose of $32,000, was granted by the board upon the recommendation of the committee on permanent and prospective highways, consisting of Supervisors Chas. E. Moore, H. D. Frealway and F. M. Roach.

Among the other big things which were accomplished was the settlement, once and for all of the matter pertaining to charges brought against Supr. Barnes of the county farm. Harsh accusations were made publicly against the methods employed by the above at the farm, an investigation was made by the state board of control, and finally the affair was brought before the county board. The trustees of the farm, at the request of the board, made a thorough investigation of the charges and returned with a report completely exonerating Mr. Barnes and condemning those who had publicly thrashed out the alleged mismanagement.

On the second day of the session, after a short discussion, the county training school for teachers was located in the city of Janesville. Officers were read from both this city and Evansville, expressing their desire to have the school located in their respective cities and making definite propositions on the subject. Although the opinion of the members were divided and the vote was 21 to 17, all controversy was settled after the vote was taken and the interest and enthusiasm for the new school was manifested in the generous appropriation of $2,000 in addition to the like sum already voted for its equipment and maintenance.

Many matters were agitated and as there was not enough known of them to warrant any action on them being taken at this session, they were put in the hands of competent committees and left over for settlement at the November session. Among those were repairs needed at the county jail as well as a construction of a new barn in the rear of that building. Likewise plans for the remodeling of the upper floor of the court house were talked over.

County Supt. Antidel asked the board if there was not some way in which to arrange for suitable offices for his department. This brought out the plan to move the office of the county clerk, thus making that office treasurer into the one occupied by the county superintendent into the one vacated by the treasurer.

The long unsettled question as to whether the city of Beloit was liable for half of the salary of the deputy sheriff was also left over until the November meeting.

In addition to the county and the different towns in the county for highway construction, petitions from Newark and Harmony asking for aid in the construction of bridges were granted. The former asked for $200 and the latter for $100. Upon the motion of Supervisor Roach a new plan in the paying of road appropriations to the towns was allowed by the board. By the certifying of the orders by the county clerk, to the county treasurer, the old plan of making the town treasurers come in and certify them personally was done away with.

Supervisor Heddes read a petition from the Rock County Humane society asking for an appropriation of $200 to this corporation to support them during the coming year. This was granted by the board in addition with the state law of 1909. Edward A. Stone, a blind person at Beloit, was voted $200 for maintenance for the ensuing year. Upon the recommendation of a special committee appointed at this session, permission was given for the rebuilding of some of the books and records in the office of the register of deeds and the deputy register was voted an increase of ten dollars a month in salary.

On the last day the report of County Superintendent of Schools O. D. Antidel was heard. The superintendent showed the marked advancement in the schools of the county during the past year and outlined some of his plans for the future. Among the things touched upon were the proposed county agricultural school, the summer session of the training school and plans for the latter.

Charles E. Moore of Magnolia was elected vice-chairman for the ensuing year and the list of standing committees include members who are highly capable of carrying on the work entrusted to them until the next meeting.

Great Doings Here Tomorrow

$14.50 Suit Sale

A wholesale clearance of suits; a lot of new stuff just in, which has been delayed in the shops is on sale tomorrow.

You get the advantage of the highest quality at a good deal less than its worth when you come here tomorrow; we never have anything but the highest grade of merchandise for sale at any time; price reductions don't lessen the quality.

It's really a very remarkable opportunity we're offering you in this clearance of suits; the values represented by a $14.50 price are the most extreme we've ever offered.

You can easily understand the reasons for this price making event; a lot of suits which we should have had before Easter have just come in; delayed in the shipping. We didn't sell them before Easter because we didn't have them. They're here now; and we're clearing them at much below value. The values regularly would be $18 and $20 per suit, but they must go now at $14.50, all of the good fabrics are embodied, including blue serges. This is your opportunity. Coming down tomorrow?

$20 Suit Special In this lot are included fancy fabrics of the best weaves and patterns, the kind men and young men like best. These are included in the clearance tomorrow and represent $22.50 and $25.00 values ordinarily.

You Can Save Money On a Spring Overcoat By Acting Quickly

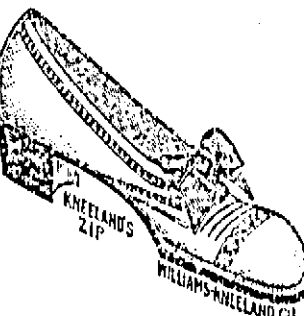

Our tremendous Easter business has slightly broken up assortments and size ranges have been somewhat altered. So we're making special prices here also. All of the season's popular grays, tans and browns are represented and the range of fabrics and modes is complete including Chesterfields, Gebardines, English Slip-ons and Cravenettes, making the sale one in which you would do well to share. Beginning at once special prices at $7, $10, $15, $18 and $20.

New Hats If you're saying to yourself, "There's never anything new about hats," you haven't visited us lately. We're showing some of the newest things you have ever seen—all decidedly new. Priced $1.00 to $3.00.

Men's Shoes

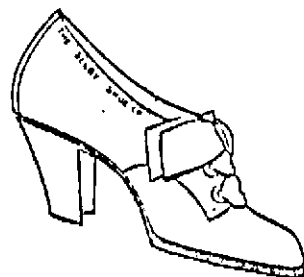

There's a good deal in being sure before you spend your shoe money, that you're going to get what you want and something that's worth it.

The shoe that we illustrate is one of our best models. It's a "live wire," full of snappy style, high arch, high heels, short effect, new tan—the best fitting, noblest looking and biggest value in town. Hundreds of others. On display in our big windows. If you haven't a pair, you'll need them soon; better see them anyway. It's an opportunity to study values.

Ladies' Shoes

In models that are most pleasing—the desired metropolitan effects. Browns, blacks, velvets in browns and blacks, white button boots, brown and black vel-o-ee, button oxfords, pumps with no straps, cravenettes, suedes, white canvas and hosts of others together with the staple leathers, all find showing here. $3.00 and $3.50.

MAN WHO RECEIVED MESSAGE FROM GOD GOES TO MENDOTA

John Slinn of Porter Telle Court of His Visions From Divine Sources

After a hearing full of colored thrills and much discussion of things psychic and supernatural, John Slinn of Porter, who claims to have received messages from God of various kinds, was adjudged insane by a jury of six men and committed to the state asylum at Mendota by Judge Sale in the county court this morning. Slinn was committed to the county jail Wednesday as an insane person upon complaint of several people and demanded a jury hearing which was held this morning.

It was brought out in the course of the hearing that Slinn resides alone on an eighty-acre farm in Porter. Upon several occasions he has been the recipient of messages from God, he says, telling him to do certain things and threatening dire punishment in case of refusal. Among these commands was one to write letters to certain women asking to go with him to some vague and indefinite place where "the trees were tall and large around" and "where a church must be built as they are in need of a church and can't build one, because their ain't none there."

The state represented by District Attorney Danwidlo called as witnesses, Dr. McChesney and Cleary who testified that they had called on Slinn's farm and from a thorough examination they would pronounce the man insane, Slinn went on the stand and when subjected to an examination by the attorneys afforded some very startling revelations.

He said that he received the messages from God in the morning when he was half asleep and that they were very mandatory and demanded him to write the letters. He explained that the reason that they were not definite was that the Lord was liable to stop and not go any further, leaving him at a loss to know what to do to explain the vague sounding epistles. He also stated that one of the commands was to sell his farm to a neighbor, John White, and move to Koshkonong, the monthly of doing being the utter destruction by fire of all of his farm buildings and house.

Attorney Cunningham who had Slinn's case in charge, brought some very interesting and unique testimony late in the case. Professor Z. O. Bowen, a witness was asked to give his opinion of the case and his idea as to the sanity of Slinn. He said that in his estimation Slinn was not exactly insane, but that he was normal and the only trouble with him was that he had not reached the proper stage in the course of psychic evolution and that he should not have spread the substance of his spiritual revelations broadcast, but should have held his tongue. He said that he himself had been through just such a stage and if he had not had good and trustworthy advisers he too would have found himself in the same trouble as Slinn.

The testimony of Prof. Harry Davenport another witness, was equally strong in support of the sanity of Slinn. The professor stated that we are all subject to impressions from some source. In his opinion, Slinn was normal, but had not used his spirit messages to the best advantage.

The jury consisted of Wallace Cochran, Joseph Henr, John Jones, L. H. Case, W. E. Flaherty and Peter Kinkadee.

BELOIT COUNCIL IS UPHELD BY GRIMM

In Action Brought by Frank Chandler Whose Saloon License Was Revoked, Judge Grimm Sustains Council.

In the certiorari action of Frank Chandler against the city of Beloit, it being an action of the former to review the proceedings of the common council of that city in revoking his saloon license, argued before Judge Grimm in the circuit court yesterday afternoon, the action of the council was sustained.

Chandler kept a saloon at the corner of State street and Grand avenue in Beloit. It was claimed that he served liquor on Sunday in a room over the saloon. Chandler maintained that there was no proof offered to show that liquor was served to show that it was sold in the saloon proper. On these grounds he claimed that the action of the council in revoking his license was unwarranted and brought the action in the circuit court to have the revocation reversed. Judge Grimm, however, sustained the proceedings of the common council and the license remains revoked. Woolsey and Arnold were the lawyers for the appellant and City Attorney H. W. Adams of Beloit represented the city's case.

The case of R. A. Fuller against the Vale Automobile company was dismissed yesterday afternoon.

FORMER RESIDENT A VICTIM OF THUGS

Mrs. Clara Harris Victim of Brutal Attack in Chicago On Tuesday Last Was Born Here.

Mrs. Clara Harris, who was brutally attacked, choked and kicked and left tied to a bed post in an unconscious condition by two thugs at her home, 2215 N. Maplewood Ave., Chicago, last Tuesday, is a former resident of Janesville, and was born in this city. Mrs. Harris, formerly Miss Clara Dano, when a resident of Janesville, lived on Mineral Point avenue, moving to Chicago with her parents some fifteen years ago. An uncle E. W. Parker, who resides here, today received a letter from his mother, Mrs. Mary R. Parker, who is spending the winter in Chicago, telling of the terrible affair. It seems that the two thugs gained admittance to Mrs. Harris' home and immediately grabbed and choked her. They also threw her five-year-old boy into a corner, her baby onto the floor and then after mistreating her, ransacked the house. Mrs. Harris is still in a serious condition from the attack and her husband is nearly crazed by the affair. The police have not yet discovered the assailants although they have a good description.

The ceremony will be witnessed by the near family only and will be a very quiet affair.

An Unpleasant Revelation.

"My son," said the dotting parent. "It is your duty to tell the girl you hope to marry all about yourself—all your faults and weaknesses. That's the true test of love."

"I did," replied the hopeful. "It wasn't much."

"What did you tell her?"

"Why, you see, dad, she didn't really know who you were. So I told her."

"Oh! And what did she say?"

"She said she'd tried hard to reconcile herself to the unpleasant truth."

Demand Too Much.

Some seem to think it an awful poor rule that will not work both ways for all it is ever worth.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

DOG HEROES.
Not all heroes are human. There is such a thing as heroism in a dog.
And because of it a New York woman's league is planning a scheme of reward for the life saving dogs. It is proposed to give every dog hero a bronze medal to be worn about his neck.
Why not?
The dog doubtless would prefer a bone. But the medal is intended to win for the dog hero more care and kindness.
Since the proposal was made the secretary says she has received newspaper clippings from every part of the country telling of heroic acts by dogs.
For instance—
A dog saves an entire family from a burning building, risks his life to save boys and girls from drowning, pulls a child out of the way of a runaway team, keeps a drunken master from freezing—in short, the annals of dog heroism are crowded full.
Of course—
Some of these recitals may be somewhat exaggerated. Every owner thinks his dog the smartest and best dog in the world.
One fine thing about the proposal of the woman's league is that in the application for medals neither ownership nor pedigree will count.
Just any dog will do.
The poor stray in the back alley who sleeps in a barrel and feeds on garbage and who has had his wife surprised by misfortune, his heart remaining good, if he has hero stuff in him may be a candidate.
Isn't that fine?
Do you own a dog or the tender memory of one?
If you have never known the friendship of a dog you have missed much. No one can invest his surplus affection in that way and be cheated.
On the dog's part the friendship never fails—never.
True, he can only tell it by his eyes and his tail, but there is a complete understanding between you and him.
"Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for a friend." And—
Round up in that shaggy coat of hair is something that would willingly die for you.
Lack of Judgment.
"What makes you think that man who was caught red handed in crooked finance is crazy?" asked an alienist.
"Because," replied the other, "he insists that he isn't."

Serious.
"Bother it! I can't remember whether the doctor said I was to drink less wine and still less beer, or less beer and still less wine."—Plegenda Blaetter.
Has Two Handles.
Every tomorrow has two handles. We can take hold of it by the handle of anxiety or the handle of faith.—Emerson.
Harsh Demand.
One only need be a man to give up to a friend when he is wrong, but he must be a hero who will give in to his wife when he is right.
Useless Effort.
There isn't much use asking humanity to bow before a great sacrifice when they constantly are prostrating themselves before enormous wealth.

MOB LYNCHES KENTUCKY NEGRO

BLACK IS DRAGGED OUT ON OPERA-HOUSE STAGE AND HANGED.

BODY RIDDLED WITH BULLETS

Grim Audience in Orchestra Pit Fire Valley at Writting Victim as His Feet Leave the Floor—Shot and Killed White Man.

Livermore, Ky., April 21.—Will Potter, a negro, was dragged upon the stage of the opera house and hanged and his body riddled with bullets. He had shot and killed Frank Mitchell, twenty-two years old, white, in a quarrel.

With his hands tied behind him the negro, shivering and trembling, was dragged from the basement of the opera house, where he had been hidden by Marshal Stubler and tied up on the stage.

The mob took its place in the orchestra pit, the lights were turned on, the curtain was rung up on the most world scene which ever graced a stage in America. At a word from the leader fifty shots rang out and the hanged negro fell down to the stage. The curtain was lowered and in silence the men went out into the night, leaving the black, who had taken the star role in the death drama, behind them on the boards.

Hidden in Basement.
The authorities used all secrecy they could, but the lookout, a filmy affair, was of little service, and in the hope of eluding the mob the officers carried the negro to the theater and hid him in the basement.

Some one saw them hurry the negro into the side entrance, and the hiding place was told to the leader of the mob, who had his men surround the building, and the prisoner was demanded from the authorities. They refused, but when they realized that it meant not only death to the black, but also to the men who were trying to defend him, he was turned over to the crowd.

Quarreled in Poolroom.
What Potter and Mitchell quarreled about will never be known. They were in a poolroom, and when they got into trouble Mitchell started home. As he was walking up the street toward his home the negro ran after him and fired a bullet through his breast.

It was soon noted about the town and a mob of half a hundred citizens began searching for the black. They did not find him until the leader was told where the officers were in hiding. When Sheriff Heeler arrived from Calhoun, having made the journey in a fast motor boat, there was nothing for him to do but take charge of the body that still lay on the stage, the glare of the footlights revealing in its entirety the deadly work of the mob.

WILLIAM A. DAY CHOSEN AS MORTON'S SUCCESSOR

Becomes President of Equitable Assurance Society by Almost Unanimous Vote of Directors.

New York, April 21.—Against the advice of Superintendent Hotchkiss of the state department of insurance and of its trustees, the Equitable Life Assurance society, by vote of its board of directors elected William A. Day to succeed the late Paul Morton as president of the society, at a salary of $50,000 a year, as against the $80,000 a year paid to Mr. Morton. No vice-president was chosen to succeed Mr. Day.

Only three members of the board voted against him, but afterwards they gave their votes to him, explaining that their negative vote at first was intended only to express their opposition to the selection of a new president to succeed the late Paul Morton until a definite policy of mutualization had been agreed upon.

The special committee of five members of the board which for several months has been considering plans for the mutualization of the company was unable to report agreement upon a scheme. The chief stumbling block seems to be the valuation of the capital stock that is to be absorbed and which is controlled by J. P. Morgan, who took it over from Thomas F. Ryan for $2,500,000. It was semi-officially announced that not until Mr. Morgan returns from Europe can this point be settled.

Judge Day's elevation to the presidency was hailed with satisfaction, not only by all the interests and employees of the company, but also by the best element of the financial district. Since his coming to New York in 1905 as vice-president under Paul Morton, Judge Day has attracted the attention and won the esteem of financiers as well as insurance men.

CIVILIANS FIGHT SOLDIERS.

Kingston, Jamaica, Is Scene of Bar-ous Rioting in the Streets.

Kingston, Jamaica, April 21.—Disturbances have been going on here for two days between soldiers of the West India regiment and civilians, and the police have had difficulty in handling the rioters. Serious fighting occurred in various parts of Kingston, the soldiers using razors with deadly effect. Many persons were treated at the hospitals and one death is reported. For a time residents in certain quarters were panic-stricken.

Cecil Rhodes' Great Idea.
Cecil Rhodes once said to Lord Rosebery: "When I find myself in a congenial company, or when people are playing their games, or when I am alone in a railway carriage, I shut my eyes and think of my great idea; I turn it over in my mind and try to get a new light on it; it is the pleasantest companion that I have."

Oklahoma's 22nd Birthday.

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 21.—The busy and tempestuous pioneer days of Oklahoma were recalled vividly to many of the old residents, who were on the spot when the new territory was thrown open to settlement on April 22, 1889, by the throngs attracted to this city by the two-day celebration which began here today under the joint auspices of the Aprilia Fiesta company and the "Sera" Association, which is composed of Oklahoma pioneers who were in any part of Oklahoma at the time when the territory was thrown open to settlement and will close with a grand banquet of the "Sera" Association at the Auditorium. The whole city is profusely decorated and several thousands visitors have arrived here to witness the grand parades which form the most attractive features of the two-day celebration.

New York Electionists Meet.

Bochester, N. Y., April 21.—Electionists and teachers of election from all parts of the State are in attendance at the 12th annual convention of the New York State Association of Electionists, which opened at East High School for a two-day session. The convention was called to order this morning by President George C. Williams, of Ithaca and addresses of welcome were delivered by George M. Forbes, President of the Board of Education and Clarence P. Carroll, Superintendent of Schools. Then President Williams read his annual address. The rest of the session was taken up by the reading of papers upon various subjects connected with the teaching of election in public schools and higher institutions of learning. The program provides for sessions in the morning, the afternoon and evening on both days of the convention, which will close with a series of recitations, giving interpretations of some of the best known selections for use in schools.

Janesville Aggregation—Other
Milton Baseball News.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Milton, April 21.—A team representing Janesville came to Milton, Thursday, April 20, to play Whitte's team made up of high school alumni and one or two others. For three innings the game was close and exciting, but as soon as the Milton boys got their batting sights adjusted it became one-sided and uninteresting. The Witts for Janesville—Berkor, De Witt and Dorn; and for Milton, Miller and Whitte did excellent work, the runs, aces of them being made as a result of glaring errors.

The scores by innings:
Milton 0 2 0 1 3 4 0 0 —10
Janesville 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 —1
Umpire—Whitford.

League Season Opens.
The high school team opened the intramural league season today at Palmyra. Their chances for victory are slim, since three regulars are ineligible to play and three of the squad are out because of measles.

At the same hour that the above game was played the Milton "Tigers" beat the Lima "Invincibles," 11 to 9. The Whitwater and Milton High meet on the diamond here next Friday. The visitors have been coached all season by a hired man and are out to win the "rug" of 1911.

Ed. Weaver of Mankato, Minn., a former Milton boy, was here to attend the funeral of his uncle, W. H. Weaver.

Season Opens in Western League.
Omaha, Neb., April 21.—The championship season of the Western League gets under way today, to continue until October 8. A total of 168 games will be played. Denver plays the opening game at Lincoln, Topeka at Wichita, Sioux City at St. Joseph and Des Moines at Omaha. The weaker teams of last year have apparently been strengthened and the managers throughout the circuit predict a close and interesting race for the championship.

Bowling Match by Wire.
New York, April 21.—Details have been completed for the telegraphic bowling contest between New York, Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Seattle, Montreal and Portland, Ore. for the Thompson trophy, donated by the president of the New York Athletic club. The tournament is to be held tomorrow and if successful will be made an annual affair.

Teams will consist of five men, with two substitutes allowed. Each club will bowl on its own alleys, which must be regulation size. The Western teams will begin bowling at 7 o'clock, eastern time; the middle west teams at 9 o'clock, and the eastern teams at 10 o'clock. The last five frames and the total score of each game are to be telegraphed to the different clubs competing.

PAPPAS CANDY PALACE

The House Of Quality

Attention Janesville!

Beginning Saturday, April 22nd

We offer the most remarkable proposition ever placed before the men and young men of this city!

For the sum of $16.00 to $25.00

We will make to your exact measurements a handsome, All Wool, Spring Suit or Overcoat, such as you can not possibly buy, under any circumstances, for less than $35.00 to $50.00

Here are the Details: On account of the recent strike among the tailors in New York, Chicago, and other prominent cities, some of the most celebrated Woolen Houses found themselves tremendously over-stocked and were compelled to sell off their surplus lines at a frightful sacrifice in order to avert a serious loss later on. We were among the first buyers on the ground when a famous New York house sold off its great surplus, and we secured, at a ridiculously low figure.

More than a Thousand Styles, representing the very cream of the New Spring Woolens in every conceivable new weave, pattern and shade. You can judge something of their beauty and character when we tell you that such woolens as these are never used in anything but the highest priced clothes, worn by the most fastidious dressers.

A Clean-Cut Saving of $10 to $15 goes to every man and young man who takes advantage of this great offer and we guarantee absolutely, that the style, fit, tailoring, linings and all other features will be squarely on a par with the garments universally sold at $35 and $40.

In no other way can you invest $10.00 and obtain anything like the class of tailoring we offer you. There is no possible chance of your being disappointed, because we will not permit a garment to leave this shop unless it is satisfactory in every respect.

EDUCATION FROM RELIGIOUS VIEW

MANY HELPFUL POINTS ARE BROUGHT OUT IN CONVENTION OF CHURCHES REGARDING SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK.

MANY PROBLEMS PRESENTED

Speaker At the Methodist Church Last Evening Told of Some Methods Which Might Be Used.

Problems of religious education are being discussed at the meetings of the Religious Education Convention which was opened yesterday and which will continue today with gatherings at the Congregational church this afternoon and evening.

The meetings yesterday were at the Methodist church, the pastor, Rev. T. D. Williams, presiding. A banquet was served to a large number at 6:15 last evening in the dining hall of the church and at 7:30 the program of the evening was given.

After a short song service, Rev. Williams introduced Rev. Frank Dyer, general secretary of the national Congregational brotherhood, with headquarters in Chicago, who delivered a short address. Rev. Dyer pointed out the fact that there was nothing more important in the life of the child than religious education, but he said, the Sunday schools had been backward in their methods and now concern themselves in the matter of religious education. He expressed the opinion that the churches were coming to be a more and more important factor in the welfare of the nation, and a proof of this he pointed to the increased attendance which is reported from all parts. He also noted the fact that the men were taking an active part in the affairs of the church as evidenced by the brotherhood movements and the laymen activities in various directions.

"This all has its effect on the children in the Sunday School," said Rev. Dyer, "and especially on the boys. And here the men have a responsibility which they should not neglect. It is up to them to attend these places of religious instruction, thereby setting a good example, and not only that but they should be willing to take the responsibility of teaching the boys' classes. For one man who is willing to take part in this work there are two women. Not that the women do not do a great work, but the men are better able to understand the boy and his interests and cope with the problems more effectively."

The Child Mind.
"The Child Mind and Education" was the topic treated by Dr. J. W. Laughlin. He pointed out by way of introduction that this convention indeicated a new way of looking at the religious life of the child and marked the coming of new and modern methods in the work of the Sunday school. He believed it was becoming more and more the idea in church work to start with the child and to depend less and less on the revival meetings which were the old style methods of training and retraining for church work.

"The child is something more than a physical body," said Dr. Laughlin, "for the child has a mind which differentiates him from the other creatures. It is stated that in the early life of the child, for the first five or six years, it lives in the realm of the emotions or sensibilities. The affections are most important and it is at this time that the love of them other and the helpful, pleasant, shielding protection of the home is most essential. At this time in the child's life it is necessary that there be a harmonious atmosphere in the home life, with love and tenderness abounding."

Authority Important.
"Later in the next stage of the development of the child it is important that he be made to realize that there is an authority, a power, which he must obey. He must be taught that there are laws which must be regarded, and unless this is impressed upon the child there is grave danger, that his future life and character will be seriously blighted. The father and mother have a large responsibility in this matter and they should exercise care in this regard."

The speaker further pointed out the fact that there is a law of suggestion which can be used to great advantage by the parents at this time. "The child does not take external things to him," he said, "but he takes the suggestion which is put into his mind. It is not always necessary to repeat the 'don't' but the power of suggestion may be used to secure the desired ends more effectively than any other means."

Dr. Laughlin closed with the thought that this problem of rearing the child in the right way was a wonderful opportunity in which there was possibility of magnificent success or miserable failure. It was in his estimation as great as the work as the artist and demanded as much thought and study as the artist put upon his master piece.

The Boy Problem.

Rev. J. C. Hazen of the Baptist church gave a very comprehensive talk on "The Boy and the Interest." He stated that he proposed to speak of the boy problem from the standpoint of the church and Sunday school and find if possible a means of attracting the boy to a place of service in this line of activity.

"Upon entering his teens," said Rev. Hazen, "the boy becomes more difficult to manage and it is right here that care must be exercised or we are liable to get out of touch with the boy and his interests and lose him. The period of puberty is one of turmoil and passion. It is a transition stage when the boy is neither boy nor man, but is the boy becoming the man. Something new and different is constantly being sought and he is generally active."

"This is also the religious age, when the boy fixes his ideals and his passions and decides definiteness on his religious attitude. It is a time when everything is positive and he wants to do and to act. It is our duty to help him be active, and direct his activities in the right direction."

"The boys religion is largely socialistic. He notices the crowd and follows what they do. His games are team games and he does what the rest of the bunch does. If he goes to Sunday school and his gang is not there, his father is not there, it is all up. He cannot be persuaded."

A Hero Worshiper.

"At this time the boy is a hero worshiper. He follows a leader and anything that his leader does appeals to him. And right here is the opportunity to suggest in the right manner the greatest hero of the history, and impress the power and leadership of Jesus Christ upon the mind of the boy."

"The boy's temperament is decisive, he acts quickly and if some idea catches his fancy he follows it. It is the problem to present the matter of religion to the boy in such a manner that he will act with decision and various methods can be used to secure this."

"Organization is an important thing. The boy loves this and likes to know that he is part of a system which is accomplishing something. It is important that his teacher be one who will command his respect and act as his leader. He must be one with vitality, vigor, someone who commands respect. For this reason it is better that the teacher at this period be a man. He generally understands the problems of the boy mind better than a woman."

"A boy's department in Sunday school is advocated by some and is good in that it will give an opportunity for the working out of organization. There are many other ways of appealing to the boy's nature and among them is the boy scout movement which is accomplishing much along this important line of work."

Following Rev. Hazen's address it was moved and carried that a committee with Dr. Benton as chairman, and the superintendents of the Sunday schools of the various churches, constitute a committee to plan a permanent organization for the purpose of the religious educational work of the city. This organization will be completed at the meeting this evening.

Living and "Dead."

A man died very suddenly, and the undertaker was called to do the necessary, but getting to the wrong door he asked: "Is this the house where the dead man is?" whereupon the answer he got was: "No, sir; but there is a man living next door that is dead!"

What a Starboard Light is. "Two starboard lights," said the waiter to the waiter in a Broadway restaurant.

The waiter looked over the wine list and his eye ran down to the liquors, for his two patrons had reached the post-coffee stage of their dinner. He looked blankly at the list. He could see no such cordial.

"Starboard lights, sir?" he asked. "Yes; starboard lights—two—and hurry!"

The waiter sought the maitre d'hotel and asked what the drink might be. "Creme de menthe," said the importunate person. "It's what they call 'em in England."

A Light Making Machine With A Strange Appetite

Feed It Crushed Stone and Water Once A Month

and it will supply you with enough home made gas to run thirty-five lights. Just the thing for a farm or country place of any sort.

Makes a cheap, exceptionally brilliant light—more economical than kerosene and quite as convenient as electricity. Already there are 185,000 of these machines furnishing light for as many homes.

You can set one in one corner of your cellar or in an outbuilding. Then all you need to do is to feed it the curious crushed stone known as carbide—a few pounds once a month.

The machine does the rest—automatically it brings the carbide a little at a time in contact with plain water.

The water liberates genuine acetylene gas stored in the carbide. This is done only when the lights are burning. Makes just enough acetylene to supply the lights in use and stops working when the lights are shut off.

You can have a cluster of lights in every room in the house—one in the cellar—one in the attic—one on the front porch—one at the back door—one in the shed—one in the barnyard—two in the horse barn—two in the garage and four in the cow barn.

With an installation of this kind, you would have positively the most efficient and safest light equipment money can buy.

The carbide, which comes in sheet steel drums, won't burn and can't explode.

The fixtures are permanently attached to walls and ceilings—the light flame is so stiff wind does not affect it.

Every burner can be equipped to light with the pull of a chain—no matches required and in addition to all this, the gas is not poisonous—You could sleep all night in a room with the burner open and suffer no harm.

You can have all the convenience in the way of light that may be had with either gas or electricity and have it at a much less cost.

The "Illinois" is constructed in a most workmanlike manner of the highest grade galvanized sheet steel, double seamed and riveted and every machine is thoroughly tested before leaving the factory.

The "Illinois" is examined and tested by the Underwriters' laboratories and is made in accordance with the requirements of the National Board of Fire Underwriters and is on their approved list and can be installed in buildings without affecting the insurance on same.

Moisson, the distinguished French chemist, said in 1806, with reference to generators, as follows: "The ideal apparatus, which I think does not exist, consists of a gas holder containing an excess of water into which a fragment of carbide of known weight falls automatically at the desired moment. The weight of the carbide should be such that it will fill the gas holder with gas without producing an excess."

The "Illinois" Generator fills these requirements in every particular.

The safety and reliability of a generator depends upon the feeding mechanism. The "Illinois" generator is the perfection of simplicity and positiveness in its action. It is governed in its feeding by a gasometer.

No valves are used as they are unreliable.

LEADING FEATURES OF THE "ILLINOIS" CARBIDE FEED GENERATORS

Compact form, simplicity of construction, few working parts, no complicated mechanism, automatic in all its workings, economy in operation, fixed charge of carbide, absolutely safeguarded, no after generation, durability, thoroughly tested before leaving factory, protected by National Board of Underwriters, protected by patents.

It is conceded by all authorities that the best method of producing Acetylene is by a Carbide Feed Generator, and careful tests have proven conclusively that 14x1-12 Carbide yields the maximum amount of gas.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

TO SHOW that you are eager to have a guest depart is unpardonable rudeness. Everybody knows that. To insistently urge a guest to prolong his stay when it is evident that staying would be inconvenient and against his will is almost as great a discourtesy.

And by no means everybody seems to know that. There are homes where I actually dread to go—and I know everyone has much the same experience—because my going away is made so difficult.

I ought to be pleased to know that I am so much wanted, you say? I am—very much so—having quite the common share of vanity.

But I am also made very uncomfortable by the insistence which I have to fight before I am allowed to depart.

I am often made to feel almost rude in going when they urge me so emphatically to stay.

Now to put another in a position where he feels that he is appearing rude—surely that is as ill-bred as to be rude yourself.

From one point of view, more so.

At least it seems so to me.

"I often find myself going back to Darwin's saying about the duration of a man's friendship being one of the best measures of his worth."—Anna Thackeray Ritchie.

A few weeks ago I wrote upon the subject suggested by that quotation, pointing out that it would be an interesting experiment for all of us to apply that test to ourselves, and expressing my fear that many would be found sadly wanting if tried by that standard.

In answer I received this interesting little note, which I thought quite interesting enough to pass on:

"Perhaps it may interest the Woman Philosopher to be told that one of her readers is in frequent correspondence with a friend of seventy-five years' standing, with two others of seventy-three years' standing, with two others of sixty years' standing, and two more of fifty years' standing. Perhaps seven such permanent friendships may be rather an unusual bit of fortune for one man to be grateful for. He ventures therefore to mention it to Miss Cameron."

"In making purchases in some of the larger stores of this city, as well as in the smaller ones, I find it quite the custom for saleswomen to address the patrons in this fashion: 'Now, dearie, don't you think that lovely?' or 'Dearie, take this one,' or 'Girly, this and that.'"

"Such familiar terms as these to a total stranger are certainly disgusting and wholly out of keeping under the circumstances. Invariably I seek another saleslady or walk out of the shop. I have heard other women complain in the same way. Would you kindly say something about this in your columns?"

To quote our unforgettable friend, "Deedlighted."

Only I think the lady's clever little characterization of this irritating habit of cheap familiarity has left little for me to say except "Them's my sentiments, too."

A BRILLIANT SOCIAL LEADER.

Mrs. Carter H. Harrison, whose husband has again been chosen by the citizens of Chicago to fill the mayoralty chair, is possessed of much charm of person and manners. It is said that she has been of great service to Mayor Harrison by her tactfulness as hostess and her knack of making friends of those who for political or for other reasons might be antagonistic to her husband. She is a model of no mean ability, is distinctly witty and a clever raconteur. The Harrisons entertain lavishly and it is at such times that the lady is at her best.

DOLLARS NOT THE SONS OF DOLLARS.

Dollars are the sons, not of dollars, but of pennies. This is a fact that too many persons seem to have forgotten in this age of lavish living. We spend more freely than any generation that ever lived before. Perhaps we demand more, but the fact remains that we spend more.

The average family lives better today than the average family has ever lived before. But none of us are saving anything for the future. Few of us save enough to carry us to the end of life after our years of earning are at an end. We are so optimistic that we never think of the future as anything but rosy.

Perhaps this is a happier and more comfortable way to live than if we thought more often of our obligations to the future. Perhaps we shall get through life as well and without any more discomforts than we should have if we gave a little more attention to the saving part. But whatever our reasoning it is certain that we must become dependent upon someone else. Thus we are passing burdens on to posterity. In other words we are leaving a tax upon someone who is in no way responsible for our predicament.

Someone has said that the bread of dependence is bitter. No one knows this any better than the men or women who have been a successful wage-earner and who have come to want. It is therefore a peculiar human characteristic that we do not think ahead to the needs of the near and yellow leaf period.

The dollars are the sons of the pennies. If we allow the pennies to slip through our fingers we will never possess the dollars. A great many people opposed the school savings bank, but it has proven to be a good thing. It has taught children the value of the penny. But it has done more than that. It has given health to them. In a certain school known to the writer, many of the younger children were listless, half sick and uninterested. A short distance away was a store where cheap candy was sold. The relationship between the store, the penny candies and the children was very close.

These half sick children rarely ate breakfast. Their parents, fearful that they might suffer from hunger before the close of school, provided them with pennies with which to buy candy. The children bought candy instead and the result was a complete chain of evils.

The banks were installed in the school and the children invited to make deposits. A few months later the store took out its cheap candy department because it had ceased to pay. The children reaped the benefit in a two-fold way. In a little while they had very respectable deposits to their credit and they secured better health with the result that they began to pick up in their studies. Today that one school has thousands of dollars on deposit to the credit of its thrifty pupils.

Grownups dissipate their pennies in as foolish ways as do children and they never realize it as much as they do when they need money for some good purpose like buying a home or a business—something that would be a provision for all their remaining years. The workman realizes this when it is too late. So does everyone else who has never appreciated the value of pennies.

There's Always a Goat.

"I was just thinking," "What?" "Why, when it is possible to fly from here to New York some one will probably be fool enough to do it."

A REAL BOY

There's a boy that is a boy— In a boy that is a boy— Just a rumpling, reckless type That the whole world would like to see. Frolics, adventures, fun and sill, Stammering by the water's brink With trailing dog, or pup, That sometimes will trip him up.

In the morning out and gone At the bugles of the dawn, Finding wondrous games to play In each nook along the way, Wading brooks and climbing trees, Peering the honey bees Till they sting him in despair— But what does a real boy care?

In at noon to belt his lunch, Then a run to join the "bunch," Shouts and yells and battle-cry Over sticks with bat and ball, Or a make-believe affray.

With the prizes in his play; Hisers, stone-bruise on his heel, Scratches that his battles reveal.

Crooning in a singsong twang, Harpizing by his song, Clinging close to the children, By his clumsiness with snakes, Stomping with a careless shrug Every beetle, bird and bug, Humming upon the grass, Watching all the clouds that pass.

Coming home at fall of night, Clad and mired from play and fight, Haggard, weary—Yes, With a wondrous weariness, Dreaming on with smiles and sighs After sleep has closed his eyes— There's a boy that is a boy In a boy that is a boy!

Of Buried Cities.

Beneath the time-worn streets of ancient Rome Mayhap still older streets in dust lie hid.

Beneath the sands may stand a pyramid Unfounded in historic book or tower. The forest may o'erstep some crumbling dome.

Beneath which olden rulers dreamed and died, Some palace that once housed the mighty old.

May sleep below an humble peasant's home—

What of the buried cities of the mind— The stately halls and castles still unthought.

Because we sit with idly-folded hands? Shall some one else far in the future find

What could be ours, would we but take the thought? Shall others build upon our barren lands?

THE "EAT ANYTHING" FALLACY.

Nutrition is life, using that term in the broadest sense to include, properly, the conditions necessary for its normal action—light, air, water, food and exercise, mental and physical. But we can not use light or air for food; and one food will not supply the need of another. Let us be good, but alone will not support life. To "eat anything" or everything, is as fatal on the physical side as to think anything, is fatal on the mental side. Wise food selection is as necessary to health, physical and spiritual, as it is necessary for the highest spiritual (and physical) life to "think no evil."

Walking with Her

By Byron Williams

I have had my days of glory And my days of pure delight, I have anguished in the valley And I have sorrowed in the night— I have drunk the cup of gladness And I have tasted of the rue— But the time I want it heaven Was a walkin' home with you!

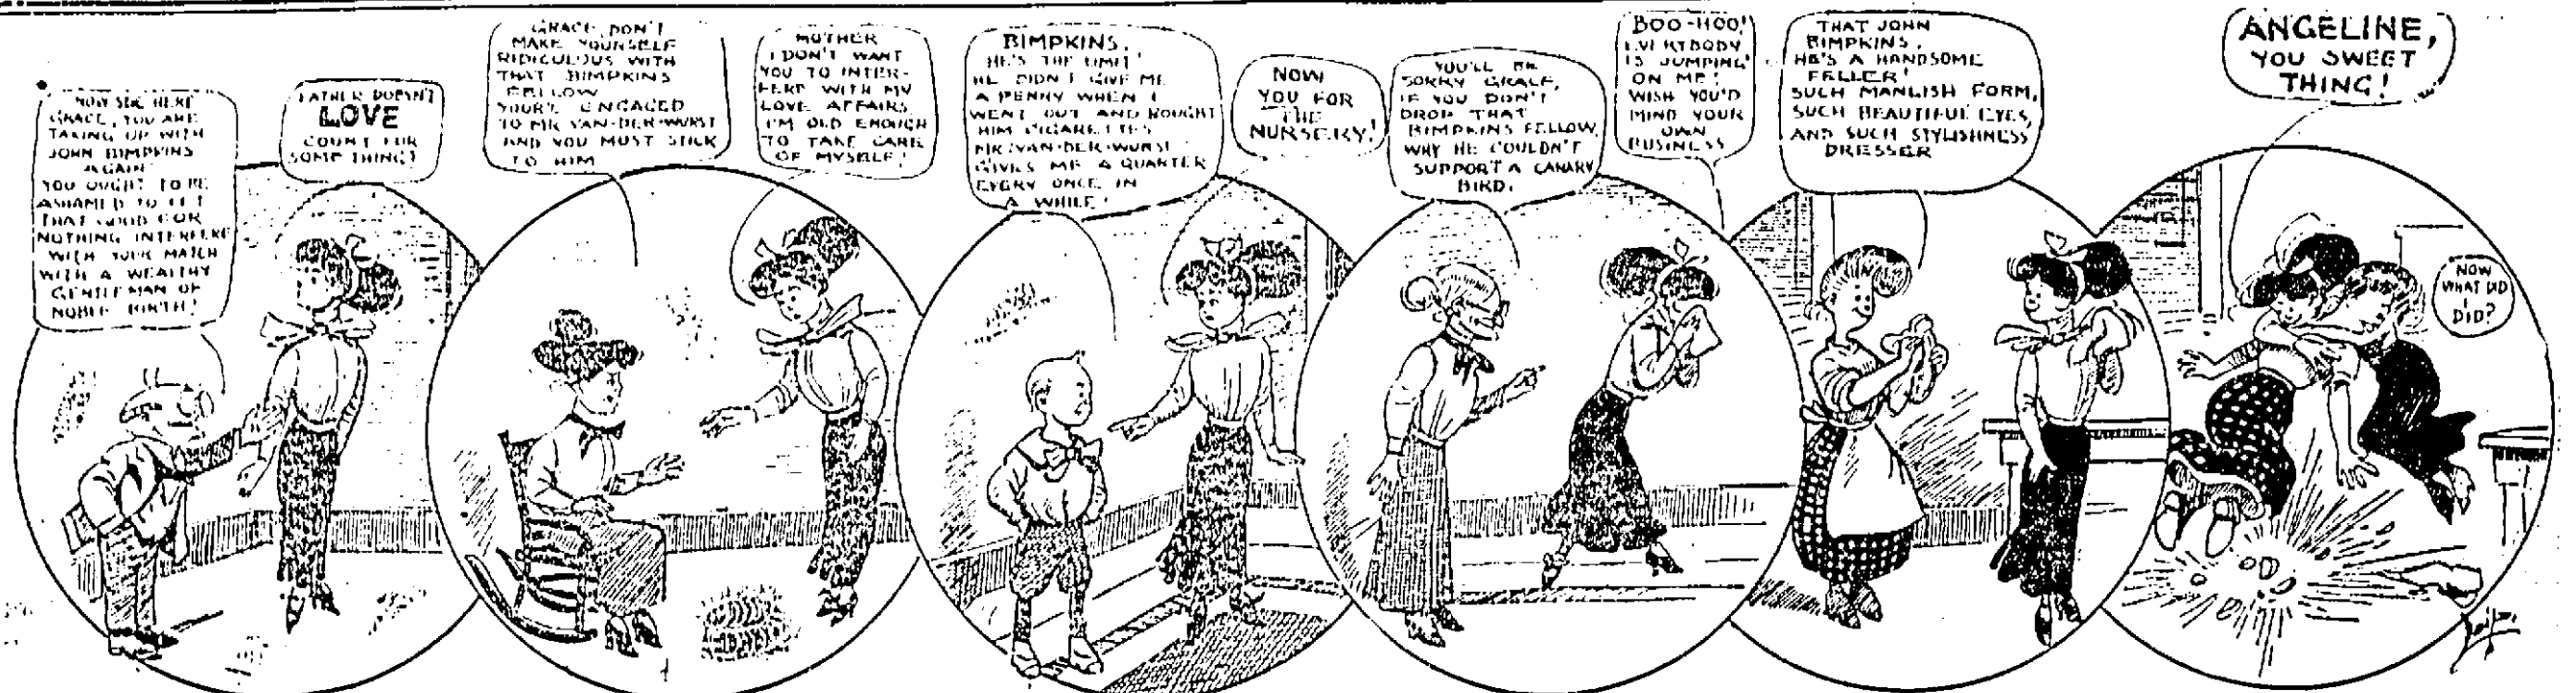

I have felt my pulses thrill Over the triumphs I have won, I have known the deep domination Of a feelin' crushed an' done, But of all the great sensations That I ever, ever knew I enjoyed it when, one evenin', I went walkin' home with you!

I have heard about the fella Who was fairest of the fair, But I let her go in the night, And I let her go in the night— With the shimmer of your hair! And her eyes would make me stare! Just beside your orbs of blue, When you told me I could, maybe, Go a-walkin' home with you!

So we left the church together You and I, my dear, that day, To go walkin' through Arcady Down the apple-blossomed way— Ah, you told me yes, my sweetheart, Told me always you'd be true, When I reached the crest of glory And went walkin' home with you!

The BRONZE BELL

BY LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE
AUTHOR OF "THE BRASS BOWL," ETC.
ILLUSTRATIONS BY MAX WALTERS

At length they stood on a low, pebbly ledge, just outside the black maw of the passage—an entrance hidden in a curtain-like fold in the face of the cliff that towered above them, casting an ink-black shadow. But beyond it the embazoned firmament glowed iridescent, and at their feet the encircling waters ran, a broad ribbon of black silk pulsing between the cliff and the opposing shores, where a thicket of tamarisks rose, a black and ragged wall.

Labertouche strode off into the water. "Straight ahead," he announced; "don't worry—taint no more than knee deep at the worst. I've horses waiting on the other side."

"Horses?" Amber interrupted. "Great heavens, man, you're—you're unbalanced!"

"No—lucky," Labertouche retorted briskly. "Where'd I been without them Naths? He's taking care of the animals. . . . Come along. What're you waiting for? Don't you know—?"

He turned to see the girl hesitating, though with an alert of understanding, and came back. "If you'll help me, Amber, I dare say we can get Miss Farrell across without a wotting."

He offered to clasp hands with the Virginian and so make a seat; but Amber had a happier thought.

"I think I can manage by myself, thank you—if Miss Farrell will trust me."

His eyes met the girl's, and in hers he read trust and faith unending; he was conscious of a curious fluttering in his bosom.

"Trust you!" she said, with a little, broken laugh, and gave herself freely to his arms.

Labertouche grunted and turned his back, wading out into the stream with a great splash.

Amber straightened up, holding her very close to him, and that with ease. Had she been thrice as heavy he could have borne her with as little care as he did his own immeasurably lightened heart in that hour of fulfillment. The faint bank neared all too quickly. He would willingly have lingered to prolong the stolen sweetness of that moment, forgetful altogether of the danger that lay behind him.

Ahead he saw Labertouche step out upon a shoving shore and, shaking his legs with an effort irresistibly suggestive of a dog leaving the water, peer inland through the tamarisks. His low, whistled signal sounded as Amber joined him and put down the girl—reluctantly. Her whispered thanks were interrupted by an exclamation from Labertouche.

"Hang it all! he can't have mistaken the spot. I told him to wait right here, and now . . . We haven't done it. He cast an apprehensive glance across the stream. "Look lively, please."

He shouldered a way through the thicket, and for several moments they struggled on through the hindering undergrowth, their passage betrayed by much noisy rustling. Then, as they won through to open ground, Labertouche paused and whistled a second time, starting eagerly from right to left.

"I'm blessed!" he declared, with a vehemence that argued his desire for stronger language. "This is bad—bad—bad! He never failed me before!"

A mocking chuckle seemed to break from the ground at their feet, and in the flicker of an eyelash a shadow lifted up out of the scrub-encumbered level. Sophia cried aloud with alarm; Labertouche swore outright, heedless; and Amber put himself before her, drawing his revolver, heartick with the conviction that they were trapped, that their labor had gone all for naught, that all futilely had they schemed and dived.

But while his finger was yet seeking the trigger the first shadow was joined by a score of fellows—shades that materialized with the swiftness and silence from the surface of the earth—and before he could level the weapon Labertouche seized his wrist. For an instant he resisted, raging with disappointment; but the Englishman was cool, strong, determined; inevitably in the outcome the weapon was pointed to the sky.

"Steady, you ass!" breathed the so-

"I say," the officer called excitedly in advance, "here's something uncommon. It's a woman, you know."

"Ah!" said Labertouche, and "Ah!" said Amber, with a click of his teeth, while the woman on his arm clung to him the closer.

"I thought we'd better bring her to you, for she said . . . Howan paused, embarrassed, and took a fresh start. "My men got to the ford just as she was coming ashore with three other men, and the whole pack took to cover on this side. Two of the men are still missing, but we routed out the other just now with this—ah—lad. He showed fight and got bayoneted. But the woman—excuse me, Mr. Amber—she protests—by George, it's too ridiculous!"

"I have claimed naught that is not true," an unforgettably sweet voice interrupted from the center of the group. It opened out, disclosing a round, smiling face, and four perhaps more incomparably beautiful than any woman they had ever looked upon, save her who held to Amber's arm, quiver with womanly sympathy and compassion.

"Aye, I have claimed!" she stormed. "I have claimed justice and the rights of widowhood, the protection of him whose wife I am; or, if he deny me, I claim that I must suffer with me—ho who hath played the traitor's part tonight, betraying his Cause and his wife alike to their downfall!"

"I claim," she insisted, lifting, in spite of the soldiers' restraining hands, one small quivering arm to single Amber out and point him to scorn, "that this is the man who, wedded to me by solemn right and the custom of the land, hath deserted and abandoned me, hath denied me even as he denies his birthright, when it doth please him, and claimers the faith of his fathers! I claim to be Naraini, Queen, wife to Har Dyn Rutton, rightful ruler of Khandawar—coward, traitor, renegade—who stands there!"

"For the love of heaven, Howan, shut her up!" cried Labertouche. "It's all a pack of lies; the woman's ravine. Rutton's dead, in the first place; in the second, he's her father. She can't be his wife very well, whether she's alive or dead. It's simply a dodge of hers to gain time. Shut her up and take her away—she's as dangerous as a wildcat!"

"Nay, I will not be gagged nor taken hence till I have said my say!" With a sudden furious wrench Naraini wrested her arms from the grasp of the guards and sprang away, eluding with lithe and snake-like movements their attempts to recapture her. "Not," she cried, "until I have wrought my will upon the two of them. Then hasten!"

stood in my light too long, O my sister!"

A hand blazing with jewels tore at the covering of her bosom and, suddenly came away clutching a dagger, thin, long and keen; and snarling she sprang toward the girl, to whose influence, however unwitting, her rights ascribed the downfall of her scheme of empire. Howan and Labertouche leaped forward and, fell short, so lightning swift she moved; only Amber stood between her and her vengeance. Choking with horror, he put the girl behind him with a resolute hand, and took Naraini to his arms.

"Ah, hast thou changed thy mind, beloved?" The woman caught him fiercely to her with an arm about his waist, and her voice rose shrill with mocking triumph. "Are my lips become so sweet to thee again? Then use how I kiss, thou fool!"

She thrust with wicked cunning, twice and again, before the men tore her away and disarmed her. For an instant writhing like a maddened cat, still wishing to fill her cup of vengeance to the brim with the blood of the girl, she of a sudden ceased to

What kind of a voice?

From Dickens After Death.

When I was in Australia my father and I used to correspond with each other regularly. I remember receiving his last letter to me after I had heard the news of his death. In this letter, written only three weeks before his death, he wrote: "You will doubtless have seen in many of the papers that the queen is going to bestow on me, but you can take it from me personally that during my life I shall remain as I sign myself at the end of this letter. I signed myself plain 'Charles Dickens.'—Alfred Tennyson Dickens, in the Strand."

"I am all right now, thanks to Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy."

The same relief is ready for you. Are you sure you do not need it? If Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy helped Charles Holmes, why won't it help you?

"I was troubled with heart disease," and after reading about Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy, I got a bottle. Before I got the Heart Remedy I had to sit up most of the night, and felt very bad at my stomach. Whatever I would eat made me feel worse, and my heart beat very fast. But thanks to Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy, I am all right now. I eat good, sleep good, and feel like a new man, although I am almost 68 years old. I have been a soldier in the late war of the rebellion, and was badly wounded." CHARLES HOLMES, Private Co. Children, Here's Your Cocoon.

A shipment of cocoons, said to be the largest ever brought to Philadelphia, arrived on the Panama Steamship Lines from Trinidad and San Andreas Island. The consignment consisted of 1,803,722 cocoons and no other cargo was carried. As the cocoons will average over eight inches long the cargo, if stretched out in single line would extend a distance of 20 miles.

The craft which brought the cocoons north is the only vessel sailing under the flag of Panama, either merchant vessel or war craft, in fact, the Panamas is the whole thing, so far as Panama shipping is concerned, as she includes both merchant marine and navy.

Hyomel Cures Catarrh Without Stomach Dosing, or Money Back.

Yes, dear reader, catarrh can be cured; but not by pouring vile, nauseating drugs into the stomach. And curative germs thrive, flourish and multiply in the nose and throat. Can you tell those tough and persistent little health destroyers by swallowing pills or nostrum? Any physician will tell you it cannot be done.

HYOMEL (pronounced High-o-mel) is a germ killing vaporized air which, when breathed either through the mouth or nose, will kill catarrh germs and soothe and heal the inflamed and mutilated membrane. It gives relief in two minutes.

HYOMEL is such a powerful germ destroyer that it penetrates every fold and crevice of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat.

A complete outfit, which includes Inhaler, a bottle of HYOMEL and simple instructions for use, costs $1.00. Should you need a second bottle of HYOMEL the price is only 50c. The People's Drug Co. and leading druggists everywhere sell HYOMEL.

For Breakfast Try "Sunkist" Oranges

Luscious Tree-Ripened Fruit

It is not sufficient to know that oranges are the most healthful of all fruits. It is quite as important to know the kind of oranges that are most healthful and profitable. The very finest California oranges are now packed under the label "Sunkist." Please serve "Sunkist" oranges at breakfast tomorrow and learn the superiority of tree-ripened, seedless, fiberless oranges over the commonplace kind. Don't fail to save the wrappers. There is so much "meat" and nourishment in "Sunkist" oranges and so little waste that, in addition to their extra fine flavor and goodness, they are really the most economical oranges to buy.

"Sunkist" Lemons Juiciest

Lemons differ as much as oranges. While thick-skinned lemons contain very little juice, you waste money when you buy them. Please ask for "Sunkist" lemons and note how uniformly good each one is, and what a small percentage is skin and seed.

Public Utilities of Janesville

The public utilities of a city are of interest to the people of the community and their condition and facilities for handling their particular line of business are always of interest to the manufacturer seeking a location. For instance, the Brunswick Bulk Collender Co. were interested to know the horsepower and ability to handle heavy electric business of the Electric Co. and other prospective concerns have inquired as to our Gas Light Co. and Water Co. They have always been well satisfied with the condition of these properties and it is well to know that we have here up-to-date efficient public service companies, whose service compares well with any city in the country. Modern methods and ample capacity make them of great value in negotiating with the location of new industries.

MRS. HARRY LOOMIS OF EVANSVILLE PASSED AWAY

Death Came Yesterday Afternoon Following Illness of Long Duration. (Special to this Gazette.)

Evansville, April 20.—Mrs. Harry Loomis died at one o'clock this afternoon at her home on Second street. She had been in ill health for about seven years and the immediate cause of her death was tuberculosis. Mrs. Loomis was born in Brooklyn, Wis., thirty years ago today, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lamb. She was married to Harry Loomis July 31, 1900, and they have always lived here with the exception of a short time spent in Colorado, where they went for the benefit of her health.

Beside her husband she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Margaret Lamb, three sisters, Mrs. Edgar Myers and Miss Nora Lamb of this city, and Mrs. William Farnsworth of Dayton, Wis., and one brother, James Lamb; also eight half sisters, Mesdames George Ruby, James Kuehn, George Keylock and Mrs. Joe Shively of Evansville; Mrs. Emma Brown of S. Let Us Get Together on Paints

We sell a paint that is superior to anything we have seen for years. It's like all other paints except in one respect, it is flexible. That means it will not crack or peel. It's a new secret process, that none of the other paint makers use. It actually costs you less than others.

Paint

1 gal. cans, $1.75; 1/2 gal. cans, 90c; 1 qt. cans, 50c.

WE SELL

Jap-a-Lac

and all varnishes and stains for finishing and home painting and decorating. Brushes, etc. All prices are moderate.

Try TINTO, for tinting the walls. Better and cheaper than paper. You can do it yourself. Plain colors all the rage now.

Moments Rightly Used.

Burns wrote his most beautiful poems in his spare moments while working on a farm. Grote wrote his "History of Greece" during the odds and ends of time snatched from his duty as a banker. "Moments are the golden sands of time," if rightly used.

Alaska Refrigerators The Most Economical to Buy

Today women are buying Alaska Refrigerators who bought them 30 years ago and have been using them ever since. Look around and see what others are offering. You will come back convinced that the "Alaska" is the best made refrigerator today and is the most economical to keep.

Sidney Lanier, the poet, the Christian, the greatest flute-player of all time, said this: "To make a home out of a household, given the raw materials—to wit, wife, children, a friend or two and a house—two other things are necessary. These are a good fire and music. And inasmuch as we can do without the fire half the year, I may say music is the one essential."

If you are going to buy a piano—read this

We lay this proposition down: You may look the country over and you cannot find a more durable, dependable or trustworthy piano at less than three hundred and seventy-five dollars, than the one we are distributing through the big Skavlem Piano Club.

And the club price is 277 dollars and 50 cents—and there are no extras of any kind or nature.

You pay 5 dollars to join the club. The 5 dollars is credited to the price of the piano, leaving 272 dollars and 50 cents to be paid.

The piano is immediately delivered to your home—and the remainder can be paid in 218 weekly payments of 1 dollar and 25 cents each.

You get your money back if you but ask for it if, after a month's trial, you are dissatisfied with the piano.

You get a year's privilege of exchanging it without a dollar's loss.

You Get the Strongest Guarantee Ever Given On Any Piano

If you or any one can write a stronger one than ours, write it and we will sign it.

Your family gets all unpaid payments canceled in event of your death, during the life of the Club.

You get the piano tuned two times—free.

You get a good stool and latest style scarf—free.

You get a reduction of 15 cents a week in cash in event you pay faster than at the rate of 1 dollar and 25 cents a week.

Can you think of any other desirable feature that you yourself would like to have in event you joined the Club?

Can you suggest any other advantage or privilege we can add to this big proposition that will make it fairer, safer, easier or more desirable in any way to a big club of 200 members—all intent on making the ir piano investment as light and easy and safe as possible?

If you can—let us have it. If it is good—we will adopt it.

This is the guarantee

SKAVLEM CLUB PIANO TEN YEAR GUARANTEE

We guarantee Skavlem Club Piano (No.....) to be free from defective material or workmanship for the period of ten years from date. Should same arise within that time, we agree to repair it or replace it if necessary with a new instrument without charge, upon its return to us.
(Signed) L. N. SKAVLEM.

Join the Club Now

The Club will be limited to 200 Members—you know.

Therefore, if you are going on a vacation—if you are going out of the city for a few weeks—if you don't want your piano until this summer or even until fall—join now. Don't delay sending in or bringing in your application at once. Simply send us a check or fold up a 5 dollar bill and mail to us in a letter stating that you want to become a member of the SKAVLEM PIANO CLUB. We will then register your application—and deliver the piano when you return to the city, or any time up unto or during the holidays.

You can begin with your weekly payments or not just as you like. You need not if you do not want to begin your weekly dues of a dollar and a quarter until the piano is delivered—suit yourself in this matter.

The point is—Join the Club now. Send in or bring in your application now.

Who Should Join the Club

- 1st—Young married folks should join the club.
- 2nd—Young couples about to be married should join the club.
- 3rd—Young persons who are anxious to learn to play the piano, but who, through force of circumstances, will have to buy and pay for their own instruments.
- 4th—Music teachers who are just starting their professional career should join.
- 5th—Societies, club, lodges and Sunday schools that have small stated incomes should take advantage of the easy conditions of the club.
